November's Theme: STORY

There are no true stories; we are making up every one of them.

~ Pema Chödrön

There are only true stories. We are discovering the truth in them.

~ Christina Baldwin

Hidden in all stories is the One story. The more we listen, the clearer that [universal] Story becomes. Our true identity, who we are, why we are here, what sustains us, is in this story. The stories at every kitchen table are about the same things, stories of owning, having and losing, stories of sex, of power, of pain, of wounding, of courage, hope and healing, of loneliness and the end of loneliness. Stories about God. In telling them, we are telling each other the human story.

~ Rachel Naomi Remen, Kitchen Table Wisdom

There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you.

~ Maya Angelou

Listening is soul work. It can help the living find the meaning to go on in the midst of trying circumstances, and it can help the dying accept the brevity of their lives. Without listening, there can be no story. And without stories, we cannot complete the unfinished work of healing.

~ Richard Stone, The Healing Art of Storytelling

Stories are told as spells for binding the world together.

~ John Rouse

Soul Matters ~ Rev. Virginia Jarocho-Ernst

"Our lives are not just made up of stories; they are also made by stories." I think this is true of the stories we tell and the stories told about us. Who does get to control the narrative of your life? This month, this spiritual practice may help you to claim more fully the integrity of your story:

Remembering the Wisdom of Your Plot Twist

No one gets through life without a plot twist. Unexpected events happen to us all: a death, illness, a divorce or loss of a job. And it's not always something bad: we get a job offer out of nowhere, stumble into love or learn we are pregnant right away when we thought it would take awhile. Good or bad, the unexpected event usually comes with an unexpected insight. An important value is clarified. A truth is written in neon lights. All those mundane worries and to do lists are put into perspective. But over time, that moment of clarity often fades. The plot twist's wisdom is forgotten. Our resolve to remember takes a back seat to those daily to do lists once again. This assignment invites you to bring the clarity back:

- Reconstruct and remember the story of your plot twist.
- Make time to meditate on it, write about it or discuss it with a friend.
- Find an object that represents the insight of your plot twist.
- Place that object in a place you will see every day. (Soul Matters Sharing Circle resources)

I love the way our stories unfold in surprising ways. Tending to these moments of twists and turns helps me stay hopeful. I am looking forward to this month of telling and listening for the stories we choose to tell!

Yours in faith,

Rev. Virginia

Sunday Services

One service at 10:30am

November 6

Remember Who We Are!

Rev. Virginia

On this Sunday after All Souls' Day, we remember those who have died this past year. (Please send names of your loved ones lost this year to Lisa by Nov. 2.) As we prepare to exercise our most democratic institution of Election Day, it is a good time to remember the core values and stories of our people, both in the past and in the present, as a reminder of who we really are. Music by UU Singers and Louise Chernosky.

November 13

To Heal This Nation

Rev. Virginia

No matter what the outcome of this week's election, we know that there is healing work to be done. We know that our cultural divides have grown wider. We see the common decency that undergirds our democracy eroded. What part can we play in healing our nation and communities? Music by Just Folk, Core of Fire, and Louise Chernosky.

November 20

The True Stories of Thanksgiving – A Multigenerational Service

There are stories of Pilgrims and Indians and stories of family togetherness that get romanticized. Are they true or do we just wish they were? In any event we need to tell our own stories. This we will do as part of our Thanksgiving Bread Communion. Music by UU Singers, Paul Vallin, and Louise Chernosky.

November 27

Something. Something. Something

Rev. Dr. Edward Frost

Something. Something. Something. No, I haven't forgotten the title of my sermon. But "Something" has emerged as one of the most vital and fundamental terms to have made its way into my personal spiritual journey. After this sermon, the term "Something" may catch your attention often, as it has mine, when other words, no matter how hallowed in centuries, fail us or seem inadequate. Music by Helen Benham.

Dr. Frost is the Senior Minister Emeritus of the UU Congregation of Atlanta where he served from 1989 to his retirement in 2005. He served in Princeton from 1976-1989. He has a Masters in Pastoral Counseling from Boston University and a doctorate in ministry (Psychology of Religion) from Meadville Lombard at the U. of Chicago. He is a recipient of the Borden Prize for sermon writing. He's the author/editor of "With Purpose And Principle" and of "Coming Alive," a book of sermons and other writings. He now lives in Hightstown.

Sunday Dialogs — 9am (coffee 8:45am)

November 6 – “Who’s Going to Win the Election and Why”

David Reskof and Mary Carol Day

We will discuss the book “The Righteous Mind: Why Good People are Divided by Politics and Religion” by Jonathan Haidt and how social psychology can solve our political problems.

Mary Carol Day and David Reskof are long-time members of our congregation.

November 13 – “The Story of Fredrick Franck’s Original Face at UUCMC”

Maxine Forster Guenther

In 1995, a small committee from UUCMC visited Frederick Franck at Pacem in Terris, the trans-religious sanctuary and Peace Garden in Warwick, New York that was created by Frederick and his wife, Claske. Our mission was to ask Dr. Franck about purchasing one of his icons. Reconnect with our long time history with this artist, the meaning of his work and his philosophy.

Frederick Franck wrote: “Art is one’s digging tool in search of Meaning, in search of one’s own truth. It is a “religious” activity, not in any sectarian sense but in the sense of a religious attitude toward life, to existence as such, as being supremely meaningful.”

Maxine Forster Guenther, long time member of UUCMC, was asked by Rev. Harold Dean, our first minister, to head a committee to explore the possibility of purchasing an icon by Frederick Franck.

November 20 – “Service Dog! Presentation By Terri Blair and Derry-Dog Blair”

Terri Blair and Derry

Many people wonder about Service Dogs, especially when they serve people who have “invisible disabilities”. In this presentation, we’ll demonstrate what a Service Dog like Derry can do, and why it matters. Please bring your questions, concerns and accolades for Derry. We’ll answer every question we can. Service Dogs change lives!

Terri is Licensed Professional Therapist and human services professional. An advocate, mother, photographer... so many things! Derry is a European breed of Poodle called a Moyen, or a Klein. Derry is Terri’s Service Dog.

November 27 – “Saying Goodbye to President Obama”

Everyone! (Moderators: David Reskof and Woody Ross)

Have your picture taken with President Obama! For the last time during his presidency, Barack Obama will be at UUCMC (or his cardboard surrogate). Come share what are you thankful for about the Obama Presidency? Disappointed or angry about? What surprised you?

This Dialog will be a moderated group discussion.

Building Bridges

Michelle McKenzie-Creech,
Credentialed Director of RE

How many of you like stories? This month, our congregation's theme is Story. We are surrounded by stories, each of us is filled with them, plus the places and things around us each have a story, too. Stories help us understand who we are. When we share our stories, open up and tell the world something of who we are, it creates connections between us. When you tell me about the love you have for your dog, cat or even your pet turtle, I too can know how that feels. Stories have that amazing power!

Our Unitarian Universalist principles tell us that each and every person is important and that we should accept one another and keep on learning together. One of the ways we do that is by telling each other our stories. When we can share our stories with each other we can grow and learn together.

In celebration of our month of story, Sunday, November 13th is Pajama Day at UUCMC. Also keep checking the UUCMC Parents Facebook page for reflection and ideas of how to bring our monthly themes home.

In community,
Michelle

Religious Education News

RE REjoices:

The Geodome is a big success, thank you to all that made it possible, especially the previous COA class that raised the funds for it and helped install it. Our youth rock! Also, special thanks to Nick VanDuyne who led the install.

Our youth groups kicked off their meeting with a fire down near Edgewood.

RE REquests:

We would love for RE families to join us on Facebook at "UUCMC Parents". This is a place where we can share our RE experiences and discuss parenting tips and concerns in a loving, safe environment.

Please remember that children are not allowed in the classrooms without adult supervision. After RE class is over, the classrooms should be locked.

RE REminders:

The youth are working on the same themes that are covered in worship and covenant circles. Share with each other what you have discovered about yourselves and your faith.

Some RE dates to REmember and REcord:

Board of Governance 2016-2017

Interim President Senior VP Secretary	Joan Farkas  Jan Boyarin	Treasurer VP Staff Resources VP at Large	Tom Smith Janet Freed Steve Vitale	VP at Large VP at Large Council Moderator	Alicia Malave-Diaz Stephen Alburtus Judy Bolton
---	--------------------------------	--	--	---	---

From the Board of Governance:

Your UUCMC Board would like to thank all UUCMC Members and Friends who have offered words of support and encouragement as we continue to work in community for the wellbeing of this wonderful place. We have many exciting plans coming up in future months, which we are pleased to share with you. First up is our Fall Interim Congregational Meeting which will be held Sunday, December 4. We will be creating a congregational covenant building on the “sticky notes” we shared during Virginia’s covenanting sermon. Come explore what we as a community need from each other and what we are willing to share with each other. This will be a time to come together to heal and rejoice in our beloved community.

Our Capital Campaign Exploratory Weekend will take place March 17-19, 2017. This will be an opportunity to dream big and plan for the future of our shared space. Come and be inspired by our shared goals and generosity.

Also on the agenda is a Celebration of UUCMC’s 60th Anniversary on April 9, 2017. Come learn our history and celebrate the history we have still to create.

As a governing body, our work continues as we work to finalize UUCMC’s Strategic Plan; review and update our Bylaws; and reenvision the use of Edgewood House as designated RE and Congregational meeting space. It is a busy fall, and despite our recent leadership transition, our work on the congregation’s behalf continues without hesitation.

Yours in Community,
The UUCMC Board

Dollar$ and $en$e

Fiscal Year 2016-2017 (Total Budget $477,600)

PLEDGE TARGET	PLEDGED	PLEDGE GAP	PLEDGES PAID
$342,000	$319,672	$22,328	$121,639

YTD INCOME	YTD EXPENSES	NET INCOME
$165,042	$100,183	$64,859

We continue at a good pace in the FY16-17 fiscal year, with pledge numbers tracking broadly in line with plan. However, funds pledged for FY16-17 are below our pledge target; it would be helpful if everyone would kindly submit their intended pledge amount, even if you expect to fulfill the pledge later in the year, so that budget planning can run smoothly. While our net income appears strong in this budget snapshot, expenses can come in chunks, and I expect a more modest net income results as the fiscal year progresses.

- Tom Smith, Treasurer

SOCIAL ACTION

The Social Action Committee meets in the East Room the first Wednesday, November 2, at 7pm. If you don't like the way things are, get involved.

Share the Plate: Network for Responsible Public Policy, our September recipient, received a check for $696, which represents half the monies collected in our Sunday offerings for the month. Murray Grove Retreat and Renewal Center is our Share the Plate recipient for November.

UULMNJ: William Van Wyke, new UULMNJ Board member; Dave Reskof, new UULMNJ liaison; Aimee, Johnley and Sam Vanduyne; and Aisling Jones-Wollerton all attended the Fall Conference at the Morristown UU. They had a chance to participate in the Task Force break-out sessions and idea sharing as well as hearing keynote speaker, Chris Crass. He gave a dynamic talk about how patriarchy and white supremacy, sexism and racism are not just personal faults of so many individuals but are harmful institutional structures of society that we can dismantle, working within our beloved communities. It was great to have some of our youth attend!

Highlights from task forces at Fall Conference:
Immigration is advocating for the issuance of drivers licenses for undocumented immigrants;
Environmental has a goal of 80% renewable energy sources by 2050, also urges divestment of fossil fuel stocks by major corporations. Economic Justice discussed systemic causes of poverty and homelessness as well as affordable housing issues. Gun Violence Prevention is working on bills to reduce permissible bullet calibers, number of bullets in automatic rifle clips and "Smart Gun" legislation. Reproductive Justice advocates for bills to promote more confidentiality for abortion services. Criminal Justice is working on imposing limits on the use of Solitary Confinement in penal institutions.

CLIMATE CHANGE ACTION TEAM

Sometimes it's depressing and scary to think about how our world seems to be locking in harmful effects of climate change such as rising seas, floods, droughts, wildfires, food and water insecurity, etc.

But there is some hope:

- Landmark agreement reached in Kigali, October 2016 to limit harmful HFC coolants.
- Paris Accord, agreed to by over 190 nations last year is now ratified and enters into force this month, ahead of schedule. Voices of civil society and multifaith participation strengthened the position of our negotiators. Six UUs were credentialed observers for the first time and participated in multifaith briefings from negotiators for COP 21 (Conference of the Parties).
- Marrakech, Nov. 7-18, 2016. UN climate talks COP 22, will address action items to implement the Paris agreement. Nine UUs will participate, with observer credentials.

All the parties in this international work recognize how climate change is a "threat multiplier" to humanitarian needs and to peace.

Further information is at: <http://climate.uu-uno.org>

On the domestic front--"they said it couldn't be done"--but there is progress being made in Congress to recognize and act on climate:

- 15 Republicans have signed the Gibson Resolution to address climate change
- 10 Republicans and 10 Democrats have joined in an official bipartisan Climate Solutions Caucus. (Representatives must join with a partner from across the aisle.)

These signs of progress did not happen by themselves. We the people need to be active in advocating for forward motion toward a livable world for all. All are welcome to join our local efforts. In addition to our CCAT, we host the Lincroft chapter of Citizens' Climate Lobby, Sat., November 12 at 11:30 am.

UU Buddhist Meditation
EARTH SANGHA

Every Thursday from 5:00-6:30 and every Friday from 10:30-12.

Come, come, whoever you are to the Earth Room for sitting and walking meditation... to find our center, to find our moments of peaceful abiding, to face our own suffering.

This is a Zen Buddhist sitting group, the only goal of which is to sit with ourselves together. All are teachers, all are students... bowing to our inherent complexity and love.

For more info, email Elaine Held at evdplate@gmail.com.

MUSIC! MUSIC! MUSIC!

November's music will add a soundtrack to the powerful stories we share about ourselves. The UU Singers will sing "Open the Window Children" (a song of peace inspired by a spiritual from the Georgia Sea Islands), "Waitin' for the Light to Shine" (a song of personal determination and hope from the musical Big River), and "For the Beauty of the Earth" (Jim Scott's prayerful anthem from the Missa Gaia). Just Folk will offer songs of community and healing for our first Sunday following the election. Paul Vallin will usher in the winter holidays with "Over the River and Through the Woods." We'll also hear piano music from Helen Benham.

Newcomers and longtime members are warmly invited to get involved with music at UUCMC! If you'd like to learn more, please visit our website or talk with Louise or a member of our Music Committee. Parents, stay posted for announcements about Chalice Singers (a singing group for children), which will have two performance opportunities in December. Lyrics sheets and recordings will be available this month.

Earth Room Concerts

UUCMC's series of folk/singer-songwriter concerts in our sanctuary continues:

Tracy Grammer on Saturday,
November 5 at 7:30 pm

Folk musician Tracy Grammer was the musical partner of Dave Carter, releasing 3 acclaimed albums with him before his untimely death. Our own Just Folk group has performed Dave's "Gentle Arms of Eden", which was added to the hymnal in at least one UU congregation.

Tracy has forged a strong following as a solo performer, playing Dave's songs, among others, and showcasing her own growth as a songwriter. Tracy's concert will also include a "words+music" set, touching on topics including Dave's transgender decision, grief, life on the road, public versus private selves, and starting over.

Tickets are on sale at coffee hour and on the website:

From the Racial Justice Task Force:

White fear and fragility will be the death of us all

October 12, 2016 by Leslie Scanlon

MONTREAT, N.C. – Anthea Butler, a university professor and a person of color, did not want to come to Montreat Conference Center a few weeks before the presidential election and talk to a bunch of white folks about race. Butler is an associate professor of religious studies and Africana studies and graduate chair of religious studies at the University of Pennsylvania. Her lived reality as a black person is this: "We don't have humanity in this country. We don't have personhood," but exist in a reality of "blood and death and words shouted at us," and the prospect of Donald Trump being elected president.

"The last thing I really want to do is talk to white people," Butler said Oct. 12 to about 400 people at the DisGrace conference on racism and injustice. "Don't take that wrong. But I'm tired. I'm tired. I can't tell you how tired I am. Because I've been fighting this for a long time, and when you've been in a fight for a long time, you get weary." She has friends and loved ones who generously help hold her up, "but they're tired too. Every person of color is tired" in this country.
